Northern Ireland

Northern Ireland is a part of the United Kingdom, located on the island of Ireland. It shares a border with the Republic of Ireland to the south and west. The capital city of Northern Ireland is Belfast, known for its rich history and culture. The population is around 1.9 million people, made up of different communities, each with its unique traditions and beliefs.

One of the most famous places in Northern Ireland is the Giant's Causeway. This natural wonder consists of around 40,000 interlocking basalt columns formed by volcanic activity millions of years ago. It is a UNESCO World Heritage site and attracts many tourists who come to look at its unique formations. Another popular destination is the Mourne Mountains, where people can hike and enjoy the beautiful scenery.

The culture of Northern Ireland is influenced by its history, including its relationship with England, Scotland, and the Republic of Ireland. Traditional music plays an important role in life here. Many people enjoy folk music sessions in pubs, where musicians gather to play lively tunes. They often use instruments like fiddles, bodhráns, and flutes. Sports are also popular, with football and rugby being favourites.

Throughout its history, Northern Ireland has experienced conflict, particularly during a period known as 'The Troubles.' This conflict was mainly between two groups: those who wanted to remain part of the United Kingdom and those who wanted to unite with the Republic of Ireland. The Good Friday Agreement, signed in 1998, helped to bring peace to the region. Though challenges still exist, people in Northern Ireland work hard to build a better future together.

In conclusion, Northern Ireland is a place of amazing landscapes, rich culture, and a complex history. Its people continue to celebrate their heritage while looking forward to a peaceful and united future. Whether exploring natural wonders or enjoying traditional music, there is much to discover in this unique region.

A. What is the capital city of Northern Ireland?

A Housewarming Party

Last Saturday, the Garcia family hosted a house-warming party to celebrate their new home. After moving in just a week earlier, they wanted to share their excitement with friends and family. The sun was shining brightly, and the weather was perfect for an outdoor gathering. The garden was filled with colourful flowers, and the sounds of laughter and music filled the air.

As the guests arrived, they were greeted by Maria, the youngest Garcia, who handed each person a colourful party invitation. The delicious smell of barbecue wafted from the grill where Mr. Garcia was cooking burgers and hot dogs. Everyone gathered around the patio, enjoying the tasty food and chatting about what they liked most about the new house. The atmosphere was lively, with friends recalling fond memories and sharing stories that brought them closer together.

Inside the house, guests admired the beautiful decorations. Mrs. Garcia had chosen bright colours for the living room, making it feel warm and inviting. The family had worked hard to turn the new space into a cozy home, adding personal touches like family photos and handcrafted artwork. After eating, everyone played games in the backyard, including a fun game of sack races. The kids giggled as they jumped, while the adults cheered them on, remembering about their own childhood games.

As the sun began to set, it was time for the guests to leave. They felt happy and grateful to be a part of the Garcia family's special day. Maria announced that they would host movie nights in their new living room, which excited everyone. As they departed, heartfelt hugs and promising plans for future gatherings filled the air. The house-warming party was a huge success, and the Garcias felt lucky to have such wonderful friends and family to celebrate with. It was a day they would cherish for years to come, marking the beginning of many joyful memories in their new home.

A. What event did the Garcia family celebrate?

- 1) A birthday party
- 2) A housewarming party
- 3) An anniversary celebration

B. Who helped greet the guests as they arrived?

- 1) Mr. Garcia
- 2) Mrs. Garcia
- 3) Maria

C. What was Mr. Garcia cooking on the grill?

The Town I Live In

The town I live in is called Maplewood. It is a small, cozy town located in the countryside. Maplewood is surrounded by beautiful green hills and thick forests, making it a perfect place for nature lovers. The town has a population of about 5,000 people, which gives it a feeling of a friendly, close-knit community. Most residents know each other by name, and it's not uncommon to see neighbours chatting and helping one another out.

One of the highlights of Maplewood is its charming Main Street. Lined with small shops, cafes, and restaurants, this street is always buzzing with activity. At weekends, families often walk along Main Street, stopping at the ice cream cafe for a treat or visiting the local bookstore to find a new story to enjoy. The town has a monthly farmer's market where local farmers sell fresh food, homemade jams, and baked goods. This is a great way for residents to support local businesses while enjoying delicious food.

Maplewood also holds various events throughout the year that bring the community together. Each summer, the town organizes a festival called Maplewood Days. During this festival, there are games, rides, and live music. The highlight of the event is the annual pie-eating contest, which everyone looks forward to! In the autumn, there is a harvest festival where people can have a really enjoyable time. These events strengthen a sense of community, as families and friends come together to celebrate.

In addition to its friendly atmosphere, Maplewood is known for its excellent schools. The Maplewood Middle School often receives high ratings due to its dedicated teachers and engaging programs. Students here enjoy learning about various subjects, including science, math, and history, along with extracurricular activities like football and art club. The youth in Maplewood are encouraged to be active and do their best in their education.

In conclusion, Maplewood is more than just a place to live; it feels like home. Its welcoming community, exciting local events, and high-quality schools contribute to a great quality of life.

Healthy Eating

Healthy eating is essential for everyone, especially for children. Our bodies need various nutrients to grow, learn, and play. A balanced diet includes a variety of foods from different food groups: fruits, vegetables, grains, protein, and dairy. Each of these food groups provides important vitamins and minerals that help us stay healthy.

Fruits and vegetables are crucial parts of a healthy diet. They are packed with vitamins, minerals, and fiber, which help our bodies function properly. Eating a variety of fruits and vegetables can improve our immune system, making us less likely to get sick. It is recommended that children should eat at least five servings of fruits and vegetables every day. This may seem challenging, but there are many delicious ways to include them in meals and snacks. For example, adding berries to breakfast cereal, snacking on carrot sticks, or enjoying a salad for lunch are all great options.

Grains are another important food group. Whole grains, such as brown rice, oatmeal, and whole wheat bread, are rich in fiber and can help maintain a healthy digestive system. They also provide energy for physical activities, which is particularly important for active kids. It's better to choose whole grains than refined grains whenever possible.

Protein is essential for building muscles and repairing body tissues. Good sources of protein include meats, fish, eggs, beans, and nuts. These foods help keep energy levels high, especially during busy school days or after sports practice.

Lastly, dairy products, like milk, yogurt, and cheese, provide calcium and vitamin D, which are vital for strong bones and teeth. For those who are lactose intolerant, there are many lactose-free options available.

In conclusion, healthy eating is vital for overall health and well-being. By choosing a variety of nutritious foods, we can ensure that our bodies receive the essential nutrients they need for life. Remember, making healthy choices of food can lead to a happy and active life!

A. Why is healthy eating particularly important for children?

- 1) It helps them grow, learn, and play.
- 2) It makes them taller than others.
- 3) It allows them to eat sweets without consequences.

B. How many servings of fruits and vegetables should children aim to eat daily?

- 1) Three
- 2) Five
- 3) Seven

C. What is a benefit of eating whole grains?

- 1) They taste better than refined grains.
- 2) They contain less fiber.
- 3) They provide energy and help maintain healthy digestion.

D. Which foods are good sources of protein?

- 1) Vegetables and fruits

- 2) Grains and cereal
- 3) Meats, fish, eggs, beans, and nuts

E. What nutrient is primarily provided by dairy products?

- 1) Carbohydrates
- 2) Iron
- 3) Calcium

School is My Second Home

For many students, school is more than just a place to learn; it is like a second home. Here, friendships are made, and memories are created. Every morning, students eagerly rush into the building, ready to engage in various activities. The classrooms, filled with colourful posters and learning materials, are a haven for curiosity and growth. Each subject is a new adventure, from exploring the wonders of science to diving into exciting stories in literature.

The teachers play a vital role in making school feel welcoming. They are not just instructors; they are mentors who inspire students and help them navigate their educational journeys. The encouragement from teachers helps students build confidence and discover their strengths. After all, school is a place where mistakes are considered an important part of learning. It's a pleasure to know that everyone is working together to grow and develop.

Beyond studies, the school provides a rich environment for socialization. The playground is filled with laughter and joy during breaks, as friends chat, play games, and build lasting bonds. These friendships often extend beyond the classroom walls, leading to exciting adventures outside of school hours. Participating in clubs, sports, and other activities allows students to develop new skills and enjoy friendly relationships with their classmates.

Furthermore, school is a place where different cultures meet, making a sense of belonging and understanding. Students from different backgrounds come together, share their experiences, and learn from each other. This diversity enriches the school community, allowing everyone to develop a broader perspective on life.

In conclusion, it's important to understand that students should recognize the significance of school in their lives. It is not just a building filled with books and lessons, but a fruitful environment where they can make progress academically and socially. Truly, school is my second home, a place where friendship and discovery are made.

A. Why do students think of school as a second home?

- 1) Because of the buildings and furniture
- 2) Due to friendships and memories created there
- 3) Because it is only about learning

B. What role do teachers play in school according to the text?

- 1) They only give assignments
- 2) They are mentors who inspire and encourage students
- 3) They are just there for supervision

C. What activities do students participate in outside of school hours?

- 1) Clubs, sports, and socializing with friends
- 2) Watching TV
- 3) Sleeping in the library

D. How does diversity in the school community benefit the students?

- 1) It makes it harder to make friends
- 2) It creates a boring environment
- 3) It fosters understanding and broadens perspectives

E. What is important about school besides learning?

- 1) The homework students receive
- 2) The friendships and personal growth that take place
- 3) The size of the school building and playgrounds

Safety on the Road: A Lesson from the Traffic Warden

Today, our traffic warden, Mr. Patel, visited our grade 6 classroom to teach us about road safety. He began his lesson by explaining why safety on the road is essential. 'Every year, thousands of people are injured in traffic accidents,' he said, looking around the room to emphasize his point. 'You must learn to be safe to protect yourselves and those around you.'

Mr. Patel shared several important rules everyone should follow while on the road. First, he emphasized the importance of using pedestrian crossings. 'Always cross the road at designated crosswalks,' he said. 'Look both ways before stepping off the curb, and make sure that vehicles have stopped.' He admired how we all nodded our heads in agreement, realizing we often forget this simple rule.

Next, Mr. Patel introduced us to the concept of obeying traffic signals. 'Traffic lights are your friends,' he explained. 'When the light is green, it means it's safe to go. When it's red, you must stop. These signals help prevent accidents, so always pay attention to them!' He also discussed the significance of following speed limits. 'Vehicles must drive at a safe speed so they can stop in time if something unexpected happens,' he added.

The warden then shifted focus to cyclists and motorcyclists. ‘Wearing helmets is not just a suggestion; it’s a necessity!’ he insisted. He demonstrated how to put on a helmet correctly and explained that it could save lives in case of a fall or crash. He finished the lesson by reminding us that being safe on the road is a shared responsibility. ‘You can be a part of the solution,’ Mr. Patel concluded. ‘By following these simple rules, you will help keep our roads safer for everyone.’

A. What is the main topic of Mr. Patel’s lesson?

- 1) The history of traffic lights
- 2) How to ride a bicycle
- 3) Safety on the road

B. Why are pedestrian crossings important, according to Mr. Patel?

- 1) They are dangerous places.
- 2) They are safe places to cross the road.
- 3) They make the road look nice.

C. What should you do when the traffic light is red?

- 1) Speed up and cross quickly.
- 2) Stop and wait.
- 3) Ignore it.

D. What important safety outfit did Mr. Patel highlight for cyclists?

- 1) Reflective clothing
- 2) Helmets
- 3) Lights

E. How can individuals contribute to road safety, according to the lesson?

- 1) By following the rules of the road
- 2) By driving as fast as possible
- 3) By ignoring traffic signals

The Most Popular Cartoons in Russia

Hello everyone! My name is Masha, and today I am excited to talk about a topic that I know many of you love — cartoons! Cartoons are not only fun to watch, but they can also teach us important lessons and bring joy to our lives. In Russia, we have many popular cartoons that children and adults enjoy.

One of the most famous Russian cartoons is ‘Nu, Pogodi!’ This cartoon features a wolf who is always trying to catch a hare. It's filled with humour and playful chases, but what makes it special is the way it describes the characters. Even though the wolf is often mean, he provides endless laughter with his silly actions! We have watched it for generations, and it remains a classic.

Another popular show is 'Masha and the Bear.' This cartoon tells the story of a little girl named Masha who is full of energy and curiosity. She makes friends with a bear who often has to look after her. Their adventures are both funny and heartwarming, and they teach us about friendship and responsibility. 'Masha and the Bear' has gained fame not only in Russia but also around the world, showing that animation can bridge cultures.

Additionally, we have 'Smeshariki,' a unique cartoon that features cute, round characters who solve everyday problems. Each episode teaches positive values like kindness, teamwork, and creativity. The colourful animation and uplifting stories make it a favourite among younger audiences.

Lastly, I want to mention 'Kikoriki,' which is about the same characters as 'Smeshariki.' It's designed for slightly older children and addresses more complex themes, making it enjoyable for the whole family.

In conclusion I'd like to stress that Russian cartoons are a wonderful mix of fun, humour, and meaningful lessons. They reflect our culture and values, and I encourage all of you to watch them. Thank you for listening! I hope you have found my talk interesting!

A. What is the main topic of Masha's talk?

- 1) The history of Russia
- 2) The most popular cartoons in Russia
- 3) Different types of animation

B. Who are the main characters in 'Nu, Pogodi!'?

- 1) A bear and a girl
- 2) A cat and a dog
- 3) A wolf and a hare

C. What lesson can we learn from 'Masha and the Bear'?

- 1) How to catch animals
- 2) How important friendship and responsibility are
- 3) How to build a house

D. What is the unique feature of 'Smeshariki'?

- 1) It features music and dancing
- 2) It includes characters with round shapes who solve problems
- 3) Its characters are balls that live and act in space

E. Why does Masha encourage her audience to watch Russian cartoons?

- 1) Because they are popular around the world
- 2) Because they reflect culture and values
- 3) Because they are all funny

Teenagers' Music Preferences

Hello everyone! Today, I want to talk about the pie chart that displays the music preferences of teenagers in our school. In this chart, three main genres are shown: pop, rock, and hip-hop. As you can see, pop music A _____ by most of the students. According to the data, 50% of teenagers enjoy pop, while rock and hip-hop are enjoyed by 30% and 20% respectively. This means that pop music is B _____ popular than the other genres.

Interestingly, I have noticed that many of my friends have chosen pop as their favourite. In fact, the last survey C _____ just last month, and it has revealed that the popularity of hip-hop has increased slightly compared to last year. Compare this with the rock genre, which has remained steady in its popularity.

Now, D _____ of you might wonder why this is the case. It could be that pop music is played at more events and parties than rock or hip-hop, making E _____ more accessible. In the future, I believe the trends might change again, perhaps with new artists coming into the scene.

Lastly, I want to ask: What about you? What is your favourite type of music? Is it the same as the chart shows, or do you have different preferences? These preferences are important because they reflect the different tastes of our generation. Thank you!

Trafalgar Square

Hello everyone, my name is Rachel, and today I want to tell you about a special place in London called Trafalgar Square. Trafalgar Square is in the heart of London. It is a popular place for people to visit. Many people come here to see the famous sights.

Trafalgar Square is named after the Battle of Trafalgar. This was a sea battle between the British navy and the combined forces of France and Spain. It happened on October 21, 1805. The British won the battle. Admiral Lord Nelson was the leader of the British navy, and he is remembered in Trafalgar Square with a tall column. It is called Nelson's Column. At the top of the column, there is a statue of Nelson.

Around Nelson's Column, there are four big statues of lions. People like to climb on the lions and take pictures. Many pigeons used to be in the square, but now there are fewer because it is not allowed to feed them.

Trafalgar Square is also a place where people celebrate and protest. On New Year's Eve, many people gather here to welcome the new year. On other days, people come to share their opinions about important topics. It is a space where everyone can be heard.

Inside Trafalgar Square, you can also find two beautiful fountains. The water is very pretty, especially when the sun shines on it. At Christmas, there is a big Christmas tree in the square. It is a gift from Norway to the people of London. This tradition started in 1947, and it continues every year. Trafalgar Square has many museums and galleries nearby. The National Gallery is a famous art museum right next to the square. It has many amazing paintings from artists all over the world.

I love Trafalgar Square because it is full of history and fun things to do. If you ever visit London, you should see Trafalgar Square. Thank you for listening to my talk today. I hope you have learned something new!

A Visit to the London Zoo

Last Saturday, my family and I went to the London Zoo. It was a bright and sunny day, perfect for an outing. We arrived at the zoo in the morning, excited to see all the animals. The first thing we did was look at the map. The zoo is really big, so we planned our visit carefully.

Our first stop was the monkey house. We watched the monkeys jump from branch to branch. They made funny faces, and some tried to grab food from each other. Next, we visited the elephant area. The elephants were huge, and we learned they can drink a lot of water. I liked the baby elephant the most because it was playful and friendly.

After the elephants, we went to see the birds. We saw parrots, eagles, and flamingos. The parrots were colourful, and they could talk a little. It was fun to listen to them say “hello” and “goodbye”. We also saw the penguins swim. They moved very fast and looked like they were flying in the water.

Next, we visited the reptile house, where we saw snakes and lizards. The snakes looked scary, but the lizards were interesting to watch. We learned that some lizards can change colour.

For lunch, we ate sandwiches at a picnic area. We rested there for a while and talked about our favourite animals we had seen so far. After lunch, we went to the lion area.

The lions were sleeping, but some woke up when they heard noises. They looked strong and powerful.

Our last stop was the aquarium. We saw many types of fish and even sharks. The water was clear, and the fish swam gracefully. My sister loved the sea turtles because they moved slowly and seemed calm.

At the end of the day, we were tired but happy. We had a great time and learned a lot about animals. The London Zoo is a fun place to visit, and I hope to go back again soon.

Kevin's Exciting Visit to the Circus

Last weekend, I went to the Nikulin Moscow Circus on Tsvetnoy Boulevard. It was one of the most amazing experiences of my life! When I arrived, the big, colourful building caught my eye. It was decorated with bright lights and cheerful posters. There was an excitement in the air, and I could hear music coming from inside.

As I entered the building, I saw thousands of people. Everyone was laughing and talking. The smell of popcorn and cotton candy filled the air. I bought a big bag of popcorn and found my seat. The show was about to begin, and I could hardly wait!

Suddenly, the lights dimmed, and the audience went silent. A spotlight shone on the circus director, a tall man in a shiny coat and a tall hat. He welcomed us to the circus with a big smile. The crowd started applauding, and the show began.

A group of acrobats performed in the first act. They jumped and flew high in the air, performing amazing tricks. I was on the edge of my seat! Next came the clowns. They were very funny and made us all laugh with their silly tricks. One clown accidentally fell over, and I couldn't stop laughing!

Then, I watched a brave tightrope walker. He balanced high above the ground without any safety net! I held my breath as he walked across the rope, doing flips and turns. It was so thrilling to watch. After that, there were amazing trained animals. There were lions, tigers, and even a dancing dog! Each animal performed beautifully, and I was just delighted.

At last, the show ended with a grand finale. All the performers came back to the stage, and everyone clapped and cheered. I left the circus with a big smile, filled with joy and wonderful memories. I can't wait to tell my friends all about it. I hope to go back again someday!

A. What is the name of the circus Kevin visited?

Мы готовы начать.

Hello, my name is Helen, and I am excited to introduce myself! I'm twelve years old and live in a small town called Maplewood. My family is very important to me. There are four of us: my mom, my dad, my little brother, and me. My mom is a teacher, and she loves helping children learn new things. My dad works at a local bakery, where he makes the most delicious bread and pastries. Sometimes, he brings home treats for us, and they are always a big hit!

My little brother, Timmy, is just seven years old. He loves playing tennis and dreams of becoming a professional player one day. We often play tennis together in our backyard, and I enjoy cheering him up. At weekends, my family likes to spend time outdoors, whether it's hiking in the nearby hills or just having a picnic in the park. We also enjoy movie nights at home, where we sit on the sofa with popcorn and watch our favourite films.

I love reading books, especially fantasy stories, and hope to become a writer someday. I can't wait to learn more about you and your family! Hope to hear from you soon.

Warm wishes,
Helen

Hi Claire! It's Tina! I just got back from the USA, and I can't wait to tell you about the Halloween party I went to! It was absolutely amazing! Everyone was dressed in the coolest costumes. I saw vampires, witches, and even a giant pumpkin! The atmosphere was spooky but fun, with decorations everywhere — spider webs, glowing ghosts, and jack-o'-lanterns lining the paths. They had a haunted house that was super scary! I could hardly walk through without screaming! But the best part was the candy. Oh my gosh, they had all kinds — chocolate bars, gummy worms, and those sweet candy corn pieces we always talk about.

We also played games like bobbing for apples, which was hilarious, especially when my friend got soaked! I really missed you, though, and I wish you could have been there with me. Let's plan a Halloween party together next year! I have so many stories to share. Talk to you soon!"

Hey Kelly! It's Laura! I have just come back from Italy, and I am looking forward to telling you about the amazing Valentine's Day party I attended! The whole place was decorated with beautiful red and pink hearts. Everyone was so excited! When I arrived, I could see couples exchanging presents and love letters, which was really sweet. They even had a photo booth with cute accessories where people could take fun pictures. The food was delicious too! They served heart-shaped pizzas, and there were tons of chocolates everywhere. I tried this amazing Italian dessert called tiramisu — yum! There was also a live band playing romantic songs, and everybody got up to dance. Oh, and you wouldn't believe it — the locals have this tradition of writing love notes and hanging them on trees. It felt so magical! I really enjoyed my time there, and I can't wait to share more stories with you. Let's meet up soon!

Hi Charli! It's Matthew. I just got back from the USA, and I have to tell you about the amazing computer museum I visited! It's called the Computer History Museum, and it was mind-blowing. When I walked in, the first thing I saw was a giant wall covered in old computers. Some were so big they looked like they could fill half a room! You wouldn't believe how much technology has changed over the years. There were computers from the 1970s that had floppy disks. Can you imagine using those? I even got to see some of the first video games ever made! There was a cool area where you could play some classic games. It was so much fun! The best part, though, was learning about how computers have influenced our lives. They had a section on how technology connects everyone around the world. It made me really appreciate the small devices we use every day. If you ever visit California, you should definitely check it out. I'll show you some of the pictures I took when we meet up. I can't wait to tell you more. Catch you later!

Hello everyone! My name is Dasha, and today I want to talk to you about healthy diets and the impact of fast food on our lives. As sixth graders, it's important for us to understand what we eat and how it affects our bodies. A healthy diet consists of fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and lean proteins. These foods give us the energy to play, learn, and grow.

On the other hand, fast food may be tempting; it's quick and delicious. However, it often contains high levels of sugar, salt, and unhealthy fats. Eating too much fast food can lead to health problems like obesity, heart disease, and diabetes.

So, how can we make better choices? We can start by packing healthy snacks like fruits or nuts instead of chips. You can also choose to drink water or fresh juice instead of soda. Remember, whenever you feel hungry, ask yourself if your body needs real food or just a quick snack.

In conclusion, let's commit to healthy eating and paying attention to our food choices. Let's make better decisions today for a brighter, healthier tomorrow! Thank you!

Hello everyone! My name is Alex, and today I will be talking about the oldest pedestrian street in Moscow, which is called Arbat Street. Arbat Street has a rich history that dates back to the 15th century. Originally, it was just a simple road where people traveled by horse and carriage. Over the years, it turned into a busy marketplace where merchants sold their goods.

Today, Arbat Street is a popular spot for both locals and tourists. It is filled with shops, cafes, and street performers. When you walk along the street, you can see artists painting beautiful pictures and musicians playing cheerful songs. The atmosphere is always lively, which makes it a great place to visit with friends or family!

One interesting fact about Arbat Street is that it has many famous landmarks. For example, there is a statue of the beloved poet Alexander Pushkin, who is considered one of Russia's greatest writers. As you walk down the street, you can also find delightful souvenirs that represent Moscow's culture.

In conclusion, Arbat Street is not only the oldest pedestrian street in Moscow but also a wonderful place to experience the spirit of the city. I encourage everyone to visit it if you get the chance!

Hello everyone! My name is Natasha, and today I'm excited to share with you about a famous music event called the Glastonbury Festival. It takes place every year in England and is one of the largest and most celebrated festivals in the world. Glastonbury started back in 1970, and it originally began as a small festival where only a few artists participated. Now, it attracts hundreds of thousands of people from all over the globe!

At the festival, you can enjoy many different types of music, including rock, pop, and even electronic music. Some of the biggest stars, like Adele, Coldplay, and Ed Sheeran, have performed there. Besides the incredible music, Glastonbury is also known for its unique atmosphere. People camp in tents, have fun with friends, and can even participate in various arts and crafts activities.

What makes Glastonbury special is its commitment to environmental issues. Many visitors are encouraged to recycle waste and to respect nature. I hope you all will get a chance to experience this amazing festival one day. Thank you for listening!

Hello everyone! My name is Milana, and today I am going to talk about Lewis Carroll. Lewis Carroll was a famous English writer. He was born on January 27, 1832. His real name was Charles Lutwidge Dodgson. He became famous for writing a book called «Alice's Adventures in Wonderland.» Have any of you read it? It is a story about a girl named Alice who falls into a magical world. Lewis Carroll was also a mathematician and a photographer. He liked to take pictures of people and things around him. In the past, taking pictures was very different from today. Cameras were big, and it took a long time to take just one picture. Carroll enjoyed using words in fun and creative ways. He liked to play with language and make up funny poems. I think Lewis Carroll's work is still popular because of his imagination. He created new and exciting worlds that people love to explore, even today. His stories have been turned into movies and cartoons. Many people admire his ability to take readers on fantastic adventures. I hope some of you will read his books and enjoy them like I do. Thank you for listening to my talk!

Hi Sarah! It's Hilary. You won't believe how amazing the Bolshoi Ballet was! My mom and I just got back, and I can't wait to tell you all about it! The theatre itself is absolutely amazing. When we walked in, I felt like I was in a fairy tale. The golden decorations and the big chandelier sparkling above were just magical.

The ballet we watched was called 'Swan Lake', and it was so beautiful! The dancers moved like real swans. There was one girl whose dance was just incredible. Her movements were so graceful, it felt like she was flying! The music was so powerful and made my heart race. Every time the orchestra played, I could feel the excitement in the air.

I also loved the colourful costumes. The swans wore white, and the other characters had bright colours that really stood out. I could hardly take my eyes off the stage. My mom kept whispering to me how talented the performers were. I think this was the best experience I've ever had! I can't wait to tell you more when I see you. Bye for now!

Hi Mom, it's Clare. I hope you're having a nice day. I'm at the mall right now, looking for some new clothes. There's this really cute pink dress that I found, and I'm thinking about buying it. It has some small white flowers on it, and I think it's perfect for summer. Do you think that would look nice on me? I also see a green jacket that's on sale. It's a little big, but I think it would be great for when it gets cooler. Should I get it, or do you think I should keep looking? Oh, and there's a pair of blue jeans that fit really well. They're a bit more expensive than I planned, but they look so good. I'm a bit unsure about spending that much, though. What do you think? Lastly, there's this nice white T-shirt with a cute design on it. It's affordable and would go great with the jeans. I know I have a lot of T-shirts already, but this one is special. Should I add it to my cart? Let me know what you think when you have a moment. I don't want to buy too much, but these clothes really caught my eye. Thanks, Mom!

Вариант 11

Hi Anna! It's me, Nastya. I hope you are doing well. I have just visited Hyde Park in London with my mom today, and it was so much fun! The park is really big, and there are so many beautiful trees and flowers everywhere. We walked around for a while and saw lots of people having picnics. Some were riding bikes, and others were playing with their dogs. There is even a big lake where people were feeding ducks and swans, which was very cute. We also found a playground, and there were many children playing there. It had swings, slides, and a climbing area. I wanted to try it too, but it was so crowded. Then, we sat on a bench and ate some ice cream. I had vanilla, and my mom had chocolate. It was delicious! After that, we walked to the Speaker's Corner. This is where people can talk about whatever they want. We listened to a man talking about history, which was interesting. I really liked Hyde Park. It's a great place to relax and enjoy nature. I hope one day you can visit Hyde Park with me too! Talk to you soon. Bye!

Hello, everyone. My name is Alexander. Today, I will talk about Easter in Russia. Easter is a special holiday for many people. It is a happy time. In Russia, we call it «Paskha.» Easter is usually in April or May. People go to church on this day. They attend a long service at night. In the morning, we say «Khristos Voskrese.» It means «Christ is Risen.» Others say «Voistinu Voskrese,» which means «He is Risen Indeed.» We colour eggs. We use red a lot. A red egg is special. It is the first colour used for Easter eggs. The red colour means life and joy. We also bake special bread. It is called «Kulich.» It is tall and round. Sometimes, people put frosting on top. The bread is very sweet and tasty. People visit family and friends. They share Easter eggs and bread. It is a time to be happy and together. There is also a fun game. It is called «egg tapping.» You tap an egg on another egg. The egg that does not break is the winner. I like Easter in Russia because it is a time for fun, food, and family. Thank you for listening.

Hi Hayley! It's Pat here, and I'm sending you a voice message from amazing Cairo, Egypt! I can't believe I'm finally here! The city is so busy and full of life. Yesterday, I visited the Great Pyramids of Giza. They are much bigger than I imagined! I took lots of pictures. It was so cool to see a piece of history right in front of me.

Today, I went to the Egyptian Museum. WOW! I saw mummies and incredible treasures from ancient Egypt. The golden mask of Tutankhamun was the best part! The exhibits are amazing, and I learned so much about the pharaohs.

The food here is delicious too! I tried traditional dishes like koshari and falafel. They are tasty, and I love the spices. Everyone is very friendly and wants to help.

I also took a boat ride on the Nile River. The view of the city from the river is beautiful. I can see why people love to live here. Cairo is not only about history; it's also about culture and life. I wish you were here to share this experience with me! I'll send you more updates soon. Bye for now!

Hi Anna! It's Svetlana. I just came back from my trip to the USA, and I want to tell you all about Hollywood. Wow, it was amazing! You know, when I first arrived, I saw the Hollywood sign. It was so big! We went on a Hollywood tour, and guess what? I saw where famous actors live. Their houses are so beautiful and huge! I even saw a few actors at a café. They were just having coffee like normal people. It was so exciting! I also visited the Walk of Fame. There were stars on the ground with celebrity names. I took a picture with my favourite actor's star. Oh, and the food! We tried burgers and hot dogs. They were delicious. Everything was so different from home, and I loved it. The weather was warm and sunny all the time. It was perfect for sightseeing. I think Hollywood is a fun place to visit. I hope you can go someday too. I have so many pictures to show you. I miss you and can't wait to tell you more. Take care, Anna! Bye for now!

Hi Patricia! It's Wendy. I just got back from the Caucasus in Russia, and I wanted to tell you all about it! The first thing I noticed was the beautiful mountains. They are so tall and covered in snow. I took so many pictures! I went hiking with some local people, and they showed me amazing views.

The food was another highlight. I tried a dish called khinkali, which are dumplings filled with meat and spices. They were delicious! I also had some fresh fruits from the market. The people were very friendly and loved to share stories about their culture. I even learned a few words in Russian!

One day, I visited a small village where everyone was so welcoming. We danced to traditional music, and I felt so happy. It was not just a holiday; it felt like an adventure. I also saw a stunning waterfall, and I couldn't believe how clear the water was! I wish you had come with me! I think you would have loved it too. Anyway, I can't wait to tell you more when we meet. Bye for now!
